DUNBAR AGAIN SWEEPED
BY FLOOD CAUSED BY
RAINS ON MOUNTAIN*Creek Rages Through town, Inundates Buildings and
Damages Bridge.*PENNSYLVANIA LINE SUFFERS*Stream Rises Four Feet in 10 Minutes; Water Enters Stores and Central Hotel; Region Northwest Receives Brunt; Indian Creek High.

Another storm of unusual severity causing heavy property loss, swept Indian Creek valley and the region north of Dunbar last night. For the second time in less than three months, Dunbar creek, swelling with amazing rapidity, flooded several cellars in Dunbar, and carried away the abutments and middle pier of the Pennsylvania railroad bridge below the town. Pennsylvania, Indian Creek valley and Baltimore & Ohio trains were delayed by the flood.

The Pennsylvania railroad today, made arrangements with the Baltimore & Ohio for the operation of trains over the latter's lines through Dunbar. One hundred and fifty Pennsylvania railroad laborers arrived at Dunbar last night, and began temporary repairs to the railroad bridge. It was expected to have the bridge ready for operation of trains by noon today.

The pier of the bridge, damaged by the flood July 24, when the abutments practically were destroyed, suffered greater damage. Temporary repairs had been made. These were washed out by the flood. The laborers, aided by section gangs, worked all night by the light of flaring flares.

Water entered the cellars of the Durhams building, the Central hotel, the First National Bank and McGee's store. The damage to them, however, was slight.

Reports that the Dunbar Furnace Company and Booth & Filia, contractors, had been damaged by the flood, today were denied by officials of the two companies.

Dunbar creek, it is reported, rose four feet in 10 minutes. The crest of the flood was reached between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening.

Many occupants of houses along Water street, fearing a repetition of the flood of July 24, fled to the hills. Residents in the flat over the First National Bank, moved out.

A creek was narrowly averted on the Pennsylvania railroad at Dunbar last night. A trackwalker discovered the bridge was washed out. Township roads south of Dunbar, which were washed away by the flood July 24, were damaged again last night. The concrete foundations under the properties of Wilson & Whisart, along the road to the Dunbar Furnace, were washed away.

Indian Creek valley suffered heavily from the flood. More than 100 acres of bottom land at Indian Head were submerged. An abutment of the Indian Creek Valley Railroad at Indian Head, was washed out, but the bridge was repaired.

Back Creek, joining Indian Creek at Indian Head, was higher than in 40 years.

OPERATION FAILS TO SAVE
LIFE OF SCOTTDAL YOUTH*Lester Shiley, Victim of Many Accidents, Succumbs After Attempted by Local Surgeons.

SCOTTDAL, Sept. 27.—The operation reported in what the physician said was a small hope of saving his life proved unsuccessful in the case of Lester Shiley, aged 17, living near town, who died at 4:15 last evening. He recently underwent an operation for enlarged tonsils and sometime afterward while in swimming seems to have taken a cold which started up some other serious trouble. Dr. W. J. Bailey and Dr. A. E. Eide of Connellville, Dr. W. L. Foster of Scottdale operated on the boy on Wednesday night in the hope of saving his life, a hole being cut in the rear of the skull.

The boy had much suffering. Some time ago while playing baseball he had his right arm broken. When that injury had healed he was riding a bicycle along the road and in attempting to get in on the pathway the bicycle stopped and he was hurled off breaking the arm again. In a game of football he had the misfortune to get an arm broken in two places. He was a very popular boy, and a student at the East Huntingdon township high school and had been at school on Monday. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Shiley of near town and a brother of Alfred Shiley of the town. From Connellville, a sister, Alice, 16, is at home, while another sister, Miss Alice, arrived home yesterday from Ohio, where she was in the military business. The funeral will be on Sunday afternoon.

WEST SIDE SCHOOL WITHOUT
HEAT; PUPILS DISMISSED*Mercury Takes Plunge Downward
Following Heavy Rain; Young River Runs High.

Overcast would have been comfortable last night and this morning despite the fact that the mercury dropped to 57 degrees. Pupils at the seventh street school building, on the West Side, were dismissed this morning when janitors and plumbers were unable to get the heating system in operation.

Following the rain yesterday afternoon, the temperature dropped rapidly. The Young river, swollen by the heavy rains in the headwaters rose rapidly until it reached a nine foot stage this morning.

Dunbar Township Teachers Meet. The monthly meeting of the teachers and principals of Dunbar township schools will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the 11th school building at Logansport, Pa. The first meeting of the year will be held at the first of the month's work.

RUMORED WEST PENN
PLANS EXTENSION OF LINE TO JOHNSTOWN*Reports From Flood City Indicate Building to Blair-ville Soon.*TO ACT WITH INDIANA COMPANY

Seizure as Foremost. Means Road Projected from Connellville to Cumberland County City—Workmen on Stretch Between Two Points.

There were rumors here today to the effect that the lines of the Indiana Steel Highway Company will soon be connected with those of the West Penn company. Two points are named as the place of meeting. The West Penn is active at Kittanning and Ford City, Armstrong county, and the Indiana company contemplates the extension of its line to Jacksonville, not far from the Armstrong county points.

Outrage is not far from Blairsville, the present terminus of the Indiana system, where, it is reported, the West Penn contemplates an extension, and it is probable the connection for that place will be at a point above Blairsville or near Blairsville intersection.

Connecting the two systems means it will be a short time until the 24-mile stretch of track between Blairsville and Johnstown will be negotiated. A corps of surveyors already is at work between Johnstown and Blairsville.

Church Bucks Ousted Pastor. From present indications, the Rev. S. V. Jergen, who was ousted this week from the pastorate of the Pleasant View Presbyterian church at Snook by the Christian Reformed church, will start a new church. About half the members of his congregation met at Jergen's home last night and will start a new church, take charge of "other Christian work" not connected with the Pleasant View church.

Married in Greensburg. Secretary C. W. Hays, of the School Board, has communicated with the State Department regarding the shortage in the appropriation to the Connellville schools. Local directors are unable to account for the decrease.

Henry Latney and Nora Rameo, both of Connellville, both colored, were married in Greensburg, yesterday afternoon.

Thieves Try to Break Into Chief
Ritenour's Restaurant; Scared Away

Thieves are becoming so bold in this vicinity, they do not respect even the property of the police. The restaurant of Police Chief Ritenour, of South Connellville, on Pittsburg street near the Atlas Hotel, was broken into last night, but the robbers were frightened away.

Miss Stella Ritenour, aged 24 years, daughter of the police chief, was attracted by a rattling window in the rear of the place, about 1 o'clock at night. She was looking out the window of the day. Becoming alarmed she

DRISCOLL DIES OF HURT.Well Known Baltimore & Ohio Employee Succumbs at Pittsburg.

At the same hour he was injured in the Glenwood yards last Friday night, William Driscoll, a Baltimore & Ohio yard conductor, died last night at 8:30 o'clock in Mercy hospital. Pittsburg. The body was removed to the residence of E. F. Driscoll at Hazelwood, brother of the deceased; notice of funeral later.

Mr. Driscoll was born in McKeesport, and was well-known in Baltimore & Ohio railroad circles. He was 26 years old. Driscoll had been in the employ of the Baltimore & Ohio the last five years. His first position with the company was as yard clerk at Glenwood. Before going west he was employed on a railroad in California. His wife died a year ago.

Driscoll is survived by the following brothers and sisters: James J. Driscoll, of Connellville; Frank Driscoll, of Glenwood; John Driscoll, of Baltimore; Mrs. Sarah A. Driscoll, of Baltimore; Mrs. M. T. Foley, of Yorkers N. Y.

STRIKE AND FOREIGN FIGHT FOR LAWRENCE WALKOUT HEADS*Despite Orders, Textile Workers Refuse Employment; Struggle
Unites Union U. S. Ministry.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Sept. 27.—Despite the appeal of Joseph Bator and Arturo Giovannitti, the Lawrence strike breakers in had here on charges of accessory to the murder of Anna Lopez, against a general strike by industrial workers of the world, 2,000 young women and girls at the Wood & Ayre mills struck today.

BERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 27.—Screaming "Down with the United States," 500 Italian workmen on strike in sympathy with Bator and Giovannitti, tried to demolish the American minister's house here, today. Police and soldiers dispersed them after a brief fight. No serious damage was done.

NEW PITTSBURG PACKET LINEPlans Outlined for Freight and Passenger Service to New Orleans.

A company capitalized at $3,000,000, that will build new and enlarged boats for freight and passenger service, with Pittsburg as the home port, has been organized.

It is said the principals in the new steamboat line, foresee the immense possibilities of river traffic in the region between the Ohio and the Mississippi, and propose to meet the demand with boats of modern and enlarged type for freight and passenger service.

The plans embrace daily arrivals and departures of steamboats, to and from Pittsburg, within 15 months, to terminal cities South and West, including Cincinnati, Louisville, Ky., Memphis, Tenn., Cairo, Ill., St. Louis, Mo., and New Orleans La.

The prospectus outlines an expenditure of $2,700,000 for steamboats, with wharf facilities and terminals, at all the important landings.

RUMOR, ALTHOUGH DENIED, FRENCH TO GO TO PITTSBURG*Local Superintendent Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, Refutes Change.*E. A. PECK IN RESIGNATION

General Superintendent Also Stumps Story Untrue, but Local Information Gives Certain Amount of Backing; Eaton May Be Transferred.

Rumors today, although emphatically denied, were that E. A. Peck, Pittsburgh, general superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, had tendered his resignation, and would be succeeded by C. L. French, superintendent of the Connellsville division.

Peck, over the long distance telephone, today, declared the rumors false.

Mr. French left this morning, for a trip over the Fairmont, Morgantown & Pittsburg branch, and therefore was not in the city, and the rumors were false.

It was further reported that C. L. Eaton, assistant superintendent of the Connellsville division, would succeed French. Eaton's headquarters are at Somerset.

No Advices as to Arrival of Other Birds Released Sunday.

One of the carrier pigeons released, Sunday, by the local office of the United States Express Company, returned to Connellville this evening, that day and has been in the express office since. No advices have been received here as to the arrival of the other birds at Washington, D. C.

Another lot of pigeons will be released here next Sunday. The birds are to be shipped to Connellville by the Washington Racing Pigeon Club.

The mountain along the two tunnels said considerably following the heavy rains of the past two or three days. Work on the new tunnel was suspended for a time and it is not likely there will be much activity until the weather improves. The old tunnel is entirely repaired, but landslides are feared.

Prisoner Rubs Somerset Jail. SOMERSET, Sept. 27.—Julia apparently had no terror for Edward Brown, colored, of Winchester. He would just as soon rub a jail as anything else. Brown was brought to Somerset several weeks ago on a charge of stealing chickens. He was released on parole and spent most of his time at Somerset. During his incarceration, he became acquainted with the building sufficiently to take the kitchen into the kitchen. Brown broke last night, taking a lot of juicy roastin' ears. Brown was discovered and is again behind the bars.

FEAR SAND PATCH TUNNELSPrecautions and "Slow" Orders.
Excavations and "Slow" Orders.

The two Baltimore & Ohio tunnels at Sand Patch are said to be in an extremely dangerous condition. Extra precautions today were taken by suspending trains on that section and all employees of the Baltimore & Ohio and Western Maryland were warned to guard against danger. Trains were slowed.

The mountains along the two tunnels said considerably following the heavy rains of the past two or three days. Work on the new tunnel was suspended for a time and it is not likely there will be much activity until the weather improves. The old tunnel is entirely repaired, but landslides are feared.

PROBABLE LINEUP FOR GAME
WITH YOUNGWOOD ANNOUNCED*Couch Plans to Use Entire Squad if Contest Not Too Close Tomorrow.

Coach Bela B. Smith, of the Connellville High School squad, today announced the probable lineup for the game with Youngwood, tomorrow afternoon. Unless the game is too close, Coach Smith expects to use all of the members of the squad. Youngwood played the opening game of the season here last year, and was defeated by Connellville, 22 to 0.

The lineup, with probable substitutions, announced by Coach Smith, today, follows: Left end, Addis O'Donovan and Parker; left tackle, Moyer; left guard, Kell and Durnell; center, Cox and McGinn; right guard, Buttermore and Fennell; right tackle, Moore and Wray; right end, Mither and D. Moser; quarter, F. Moser and Fennell; left half, Mc Cormick and McPartland; right half, Jones, Walton and Clasper; full, Sheek and Rhoades.

Scrimmage and formation practice featured the workout yesterday afternoon. The squad stuck to the practice despite the fact that they were rained out.

High School girls, yesterday, distributed placards announcing Saturday's game with Youngwood.

ONE NEW CASE OF FEVER
REPORTED IN THIS DISTRICT*No More Typhoid or Diphtheria Made Known.

Only one new case of typhoid fever has been reported to Health Officer Allen Hyatt. The new case was reported yesterday from Denwiler's Mills. So new cases of typhoid fever or diphtheria have been reported to the local authorities. The two diphtheria patients, who were in the hospital, are ready to return to school.

Poor Board Meets; No Election. Directors of the Poor, J. J. Barnhart and George M. Strickler, in session at the county home, near Uniontown, today had not elected a successor to the late William P. Jackson at noon. The morning was spent in examining accounts and paying bills.

REPORTED ENGINEERS
HERE WILL RECEIVE
SLIGHT WAGE RAISE

While the report of the board of arbitration upon the demands of railroad engineers for higher wages is in the hands of the secretary, it is said the decision will favor a small increase rather than the full rate demanded by the men, according to local reports. The full increase would mean between $1,000,000 and $3,000,000 a year added to the payrolls of the railroads. If the engineers and other employees win, the ultimate burden on the roads would represent an increase of $60,000,000 to $70,000,000.

The roads affected by the award operate in the territory north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers and between the Mississippi river and New England, 50 in number. They include the Baltimore & Ohio, the Pittsburg & Lake Erie, Pennsylvania and Western Maryland in Connellville.

There are reasons to believe the Baltimore & Ohio railroad engineers will receive a fair increase in wages. A committee from the divisions of the railroad are meeting with President Daniel Willard in Baltimore. It is generally believed the committee will announce a moderate increase in wages, dating from October 15.

The point in contention is that of working conditions. The engineers have been asking a modification of hours, service, and an account of the varying length of divisions the company apparently has been unable to arrange runs so as to meet all the requests of the men.

Bull Moose Here in Two Weeks. One Moose Hunter expects to have T. R. here within the next two weeks. It is claimed he will speak at McKeesport, Connellville, Morgantown, Fairmont and Grafton on the same day, going from Grafton to Cumberland.

Mill Run on Tear, Floods Homes; Washouts on I. C. V. Creek Compels Two Families to Leave Homes and Plan for Their Future.

The storm which swept Dunbar last night also caused great damage at Mill Run and nearby settlements. Mill Run rose almost two inches in 40 minutes, and quickly spread over its banks.

The family of John Willis, near the town of Mill Run, was forced to flee from their home because of the flood. They took refuge in the home of James McCoy, across the creek, and were compelled to wade through water two feet higher than the bridge at that place. The home of the Cummings family in Mill Run also was inundated.

Four washouts occurred on the Indian Creek Valley railroad. These were repaired today, and traffic resumed.

ROAD MACHINERY IN MUCH
DEMAND BY CONTRACTORS*Connellsville Township Supervisors
Refuse to Lease Property

Connellsville township road machinery, which was loaned to a Luzerne township contractor some months ago, and which was recently returned to the road supervisors, seems much in demand. Requests have been received from Uniontown contractors asking for the loan of the property.

The applications have been refused as the machinery is needed in carrying on the road work in the township.

Among its other attractions, Mount Pleasant reports a reincarnated Borgia, who is poisoning the cows and dogs and chickens of that community. If this Undesirable Citizen could be induced to regulate his practices with reasonable discrimination he might become a valuable adjunct to the town; if, for example, he would confine his toxic treatment to the rodents he would be doing a great public service.

Our advertisers are helping to edit the paper today.

The wild fire alarm is a terror to small school children, but it remains a siren song to most of the grade boys.

The Third Ward fire is thought to have been caused by spontaneous combustion in a load of hay just delivered. Combustion has been known to sleep in the hay, but the hay was usually accompanied by tramps and pipes and matches.

In extending its coal and coke interests into far Kentucky, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad is only following the lead of some Connellsville coke operators.

It begins to look as if the Connellsville coke market has taken the bit in its teeth and is running wild. Better put on the brakes and mind the track. The only regulation the Connellsville coke trade needs is price regulation; and prices should be profitable, but always reasonable.

Short, sharp and satisfactory was the Young Men's Christian Association's financial campaign.

The Union Veterans captured Uniontown yesterday and held it a willing captive.

The robbers, like the poor, we have always with us; but it is becoming a serious question which are in the majority.

The Courier publishes the official compilation of the game laws for the information of sportsmen and others interested. The game laws, like the railroad schedules, change frequently. Both should be read carefully.

Safety First has reached the button stage on the West Penn.

We owe the Scotland police department an apology. There is no trouble there within our knowledge. It's closer home. For "Scotland," read "South Connellsville."

The Third Ward accumulated a fire and a thoroughfare yesterday.

HERSCHEL AND KEPLER

By Isaac of Yukon.

Herschel: "Hello, Kep. I see a spot in the milky way that looks like the reflection of a choir squabble, or a Bull Moose reaction setting in. My spy-glass is not quite strong enough to bring it in my range of vision. Do you see it?"

Kepler: "Oh, Herschel, your glass is feeling you. I see a spot right in the center of the constellation of the 'Winged' but that's a reflection of the work-gang on the Lionel Valley fair ground. That's all Herschel. I have seen that spot there for two weeks. The bright center is caused by the reflection of the red apples." "Now, Kep, I believe you are lying again. The place I am looking at is on the front porch of the milky way and the reflection looks exactly like a choir disturbance or a corn roast at Hadesburg."

"It can't be Herschel; nothing in it. It might be a stranded reflection of a clam-bake at Oakford or a duck dinner at the Pool farm, but there is no trouble reflected in the milky way that I can see."

"Kep, are you sure the spot isn't a reflection of the trouble zone of the Bullmoose?"

"Oh, so long, Herschel, there's nothing in it. The Moose are not making a reflection."

"Say, Kepler, have you been watching the reflection in the milky way recently of several divorce cases?"

"Well, I saw something the other night but it looked like dynamiting stumps in a clearing, or shoeing government mules. I had no idea that it was the reflection of divorce proceedings. Made an awful smoke."

"That's what it did, Kep. The reflection was so strong that it melted the points of some of the fixed stars and pulled Halley's comet sixty million miles out of its path in the celestial sphere. Neptune saw it and it started him in drinking. But don't say she is now visiting in the red light district. Saturn saw it and paved his rings to buy a hump."

"Herschel, I am going to trade my old spy-glass in for a new one. I've been missing everything that's going on all around and miles the Lionel Valley fair with this old glass of mine."

"Get a new one, Kep. Get a new one. Seeing is believing."

How to Give Quick Strength to Nerves

A New Treatment Without Narcotics, Alcohol, Opium or Mineral Drugs.

The day of temporary stimulants for nerve-weakened men and women is gone forever. Narcotics and intoxicants for this purpose have had their day. Science, always to the rescue, has given us a treatment of remarkable and lasting efficiency, absolutely safe and prompt in results. It can only be appreciated by actual trial. This remedy, Wade's Golden Nerve, contains no alcohol, morphine, opium or narcotic whatever. It is purely vegetable in its ingredients. It has the peculiar property of being splendidly soothing and quieting to the nervous system, yet being in no sense a sedative, and is a powerful rebuilding restorative tonic. If you are run-down, exhausted, brain-fagged, irritated, suffer from insomnia, melancholy, lack of energy and vitality, Wade's Golden Nerve will make you feel stronger, brighter, fresher and more vigorous than a long vacation. Wade's Golden Nerve is sold at all drug stores, at $1.00 a liberal-size package, or sent on receipt of price, by the Gem Medicine Company, St. Louis, Mo. It will save you money for it will build up your strength as nothing else can. Wade's Golden Nerve is sold in Connellsville by Graham & Co.

"It's Not You, Kid, But the New Nerve Builder, Wade's Golden Nerve."

VACUUM INTERESTS AGREE AS TO REORGANIZATION PLANS

McCrum-Howell Stockholders and Creditors Arrange Details for Continuing Business.

It was officially announced today in reports from Chicago to local interests that the creditors and stockholders of the McCrum-Howell company are in full accord concerning all details of the reorganization plan and a formal statement will be made October 1.

Lloyd McCrum, head of the concern, formerly of Uniontown, recently was in Somerset county, planning to make his home there.

The organization plan provides for the formation of a new corporation with a capitalization of $1,500,000, 7 per cent stock. The sums due the creditors of the defunct vacuum cleaner machinery concern aggregate $2,500,000. These creditors either may take 25 per cent in cash for the amount of their claims or 25 per cent in new preferred and 75 per cent in new common stock for the par value of the funds due them.

It reports that the stockholders of the McCrum-Howell company are to be assessed a reconstruction of funds. The attorneys for the reorganized body today explained that phases of the situation. The holders of the present stock will be offered new preferred stock at a price soon to be announced, and will be permitted to subscribe up to a certain percentage of their holdings, each share of the senior issue of new stock thus allotted carrying with it a bonus of 100 per cent in new common stock. This plan, the reorganizers believe, is the best that could have been worked out of the entangled mass of financial wreckage and will afford stockholders an opportunity to retrieve a substantial part of their investments.

A. A. Neff, Trust Co. bankers has underwritten the reorganization plan and necessary funds will be furnished when needed.

Provided all the creditors decide to take the new security, the disposition of the new company's stock will work out as follows:

Twenty-five per cent of Preferred Stock: $500,000
Remaining for underwriters: $500,000
Total: $1,000,000
Common Stock: $1,500,000

Seventy-five per cent of claims: $1,500,000
Bonus to subscribers: $500,000
Total: $2,000,000
Common Stock: $2,500,000

Leaving for various purposes $ 750,000
The announcement setting forth the terms of the reorganization will be mailed next Monday.

NEW DESIGN AND MATERIAL.

It is really surprising to note that some of the effects shown this Fall are really new. This beautiful gown is decidedly unlike any seen before.

The material is one of the striped velvets, showing a narrow stripe of rich burnt orange between wide stripes of taupe gray velvet. The closing is in front, a little to the right side, and a wide raver covers the right side of the front. The raver and back end are embroidered in orange and gold, and a little of the embroidery shows on the narrow cuffs. A collar of embroidered linen finishes the neck.

BYRON WILLIAMS

CHAPTER VI.

In the office, smoking one of Miss Host's best cigars, his dignity outraged, sat the sheriff, waiting. Mayor Bedlight walked up the hotel stairs, oblivious to his pending fate. Suddenly a door opened and a head appeared, a blonde head, a plump head, a head to catch the fancy of an artist.

"Shh!" said the owner of the pretty profile.

Bedlight stopped, looking around cautiously.

"Hurry!" commanded the girl, holding open the door of her room.

His Honor, the Mayor, hesitated for a moment, and then, throwing conventionality to the winds, bolted through. The girl turned the key in the lock and faced him accusingly.

"Well of all the blundering bounders! Do you know the sheriff has been hanging around here all afternoon waiting to arrest you?"

The mayor looked brazenly at the girl.

"I expected as much," he said, carelessly.

"What have you been doing now?" she demanded, giving him a severe reprimand from two otherwise kindly hazel eyes.

"Oh, chuck the attitude, Dees," growled the mayor, indignantly.

"That little top of a Mabel Arney insisted on riding the black saddle."

He ran away with her and in trying to catch the mix, I collided with a baby carriage and spilled the baby's milk. That's all. The confounded natives are always ready to arrest a summer resortor, and bothering the peace and the dignity of the village had been shattered, they threw us in jail. We broke out, suitably. "De you blame me?"

Before she could reply there was a knock on the door.

The girl's face went white.

"I'm afraid somebody saw you come in here!" she whispered.

"Nonsense," he breathed. "Here

Margaret Farnsworth.

"I'll slip under the bed. Go to the door."

In a twinkling the mayor was safely out of sight. The girl opened the door.

"Oh, hello, Jackie," she cried, in a relieved voice. "Come in."

"Dees, we're in a terrible pickle," sobbed Miss Vining. "That horrid man took Mabel Arney to Lakewood this morning and got her arrested. The sheriff insists she must be in the hotel and I've promised to bring her entire crowd out on the grounds for inspection. Mabel is frightened almost to death. Dees," dramatically, "we've got to dress her so the officer won't know her. Have you a switch of that dozen hair of yours? I've got Mae Andrews' puffs. They'll catch yours. We'll cover Mabel's black tights until she looks like an albino. Here she is now," as the rustle of skirts proclaimed a new arrival.

The mayor lay on his back, facing the mattress.

"Where's that white princess of yours?" demanded Jackie. "She wore brown today. We'll have to take some tucks in it," going to the closet and helping herself.

"Here, Mabel, get into this, and live."

"Oh, not here!" protested Dees Winters, snatching the dress from Miss Vining's hands.

The judge looked at Dees blankly.

"Why not?"

"De-because!" shrieked Dees. "I'm afraid. Slip into your room, that's a dear, and I'll bring the switch in at once."

"Oh, who's afraid?" gurgled Mabel, reaching for the gown.

"Step into the closet," implored Miss Winters. "Somebody might come."

"Dees, you're an awful coward," anathematized the judge, sternly.

The man under the bed heard the closet door close and waited. There didn't seem to be anything else to do. Presently Miss Arney reappeared.

With hysterical laughter the changing of blackhaired Mabel into a ravishing blonde proceeded rapidly.

"There!" exclaimed Miss Vining triumphantly, "the sheriff will never know her in the world. Come on."

Mayor Bedlight heard the door close. Rolling from under the bed, he locked the door and sat down to await developments. Half an hour later somebody knocked at the door.

The mayor waited.

"Waiter!" whispered an excited voice. "Open the door. It is I—Dees."

"Come in," replied the mayor, turning the key.

"We fooled him!" she cried, radiantly. "He couldn't find his prisoner."

Mabel Host told him there were but ten young ladies—and he went away bewildered—but he's coming back tomorrow to watch for you."

The man shrugged his shoulders.

"Dees, run away out and discover what Harriet Brooks—consulting his list—"would like to have me do tomorrow and whatever it is we start at five in the morning."

The girl hurried away.

The mayor seated himself at a small desk and began to write. He was still at it when Dees returned.

"She has discovered an Indian mound on Glen Island and she wants you to go with her and open it. I have arranged to have her meet you at the bathing beach at sun-up."

The mayor scowled. He was not fond of grave-digging.

"Thank you, Dees," he said finally.

"And how if you don't mind, I want to write a while."

"Very well, Walter," she consented, taking up a magazine.

For an hour neither spoke. Then the man laid down his pen and, looking at the sand:

"Dees, I want to know where Jackie Vining keeps that confounded anti-suffrage bill of mine."

"I refuse to enlighten you," sniffed the girl determinedly.

"Dees, you've got to tell me. I must get out of this confounded hole. My campaign opens on the following Saturday and I must be there. I wouldn't mind serving out my sentence but those outraged natives have butted in on the game and they'll have me in jail inside of a week, as sure as Fate. You wouldn't want me to lose my election, Dees?" looking at her with appealing eyes.

"Walter, it is downright mean of you to even think of introducing a bill such as you have prepared. You do serve to lose—but I'm willing," consentingly, "to do what I can for you. The bill—your bill—is in the personal possession of Judge Vining. She—in fact, she wears it inside her skirt—waist to avoid losing it," blushing.

"Now I hope you are satisfied—and you may go. The sheriff has disappeared for the night. You can safely occupy your apartment."

"You're a good sport," said the mayor, patting the girl tenderly on the cheek—and passed out.

CHAPTER VII.

"There is the mound," advised Harriet Brooks on Wednesday morning, pointing to a rounded heap of earth just beyond the shade of a bur-oak a half mile inland from Sylvan Lake on Glen Isle.

Mayor Bedlight took off his coat ruefully. Being prisoner to a premature gray-haired young lady with a clear, rosy complexion and a sweet, winsome manner was not an bad—but to be told to dig like a terrier in the rough soil was a horse of another color. But the mayor was game.

Grasping a spade, he set to work diligently. It was a warm morning and the perspiration began to ooze from his heated body.

"Come and sit in the shade a while," invited the girl, thoughtfully. "We have all day to ourselves—and the skeletons will not run away."

Bedlight obeyed gratefully, throwing himself at the woman's feet in the cool shadows of the oak.

"I'm awfully interested in ancient and medieval things," she explained, smiling down at him over her book. "Once when I was in Iowa I met a man who was engaged in collecting curios—and he found a real mound-builder skeleton along the Cedar river while I was there. What if this should turn out to be something like that?" hopefully.

"Pardon me," said the mayor, boldly, "but a nice girl like yourself should not be so interested in dead ones—especially when the woods are full of live ones."

The girl's face flushed, the red against her white hair making her very attractive in the eyes of the man on the sand.

"The dead ones," she said slowly, "never stay out late nights, never tyrannize, never take everything for granted, never get a grobber, never—"

The mayor interrupted her, his face serious as he said:

"There were Darby and Joan."

"But those are the days of divorce courts," she answered, "and—gen-lues—"

"I am old-fashioned," he parried. "I like to dream of home with the woman in it."

"I fear it is going to rain," evaded Miss Brooks, looking anxiously at the cloud-filled west. "Do you mind digging a bit, Mr. Bedlight?"

"As the wife said to her husband when she wanted a saute," he laughed, returning to the mound.

She came and stood over him as he worked.

His spade struck something—and her excitement grew.

"Oh, I do hope it's a mound builder!" she cried excitedly.

The mayor grinned and kept digging. A clasp of thunder pealed in the distance. As she turned apprehensively, the digger's spade prised up a long, rosy object.

"Here is your mound builder," he said soberly, raising the object upon his spade.

She gasped.

The man smiled.

"Oh!" from the woman.

"I am afraid," he breathed, softly. "It is exactly what it looks like—the tail of a cow!"

An echo of a howl came from the trees.

He stood frowning at him, grim drops of rain began to fall. He looked about hurriedly for shelter under a tree.

"Come on," he cried, starting for the boat upon the beach. "We'll have to camp out!"

She followed him blindly.

He pulled the dory high and dry and tipped it keel up.

"Crawl under," he said as the rain began to fall in torrents.

"Why, Mr. Bedlight, I can't do that!"

The man took her gently by the arm.

"You have no other choice—and be sides, I'm not a cannibal!"

She stooped and sat down upon the sand under the shelter. He followed, sitting close to her, of necessity. The fury of the storm broke. The day became as dusk, lighted only by the vivid flashes of anger that tore across the sky. He felt the woman tremble.

"I'm afraid," almost sobbing.

The mayor put his arm about her gently, soothing her as only a faithful man may soothe a nervous woman. Unconsciously she drew toward him.

"Lightning seems terrible," he said evenly, "but as a matter of fact there is always more danger on the cars. Statistics prove—"

"What's that?" cried the woman, apprehensively. "I heard a voice."

The mayor peered out.

"The sheriff!" he muttered under his breath.

Three men were running toward them on the beach, their heads down, ducking the rain.

Scrambling from under the boat, Mayor Bedlight set off at top speed up the beach, pausing at the start long enough to whisper:

"I'll be back. Wait."

The sheriff and his two deputies, weathering the gale with lowered eyes, had not seen the mayor's flight. In fact, so blinded were their eyes that they ran almost into the girl and the boat before they could stop.

"Hello!" howled the sheriff. "You're from Squirrel Inn, ain't ya? Where's yer boat?" bluntly, "We're lookin' for him."

Miss Brooks drew her feet back under her skirt and replied coldly:

"One of the best ways to find a man," witheringly, "is to go where he is."

The sheriff's chest shot out immediately.

"Now, look-a-here, young lady, none of your smartness or we'll take you along for accessory before the act. Understand?" blustering.

The MINSTREL BAND.

Did you hear the John W. Vogel's minstrel band as it filled the town with its merry, hurried music on Christmas Day? Did you notice the men in the procession, wearing high hats, long light colored overcoats, buttoned with precision around figures who followed the minstrel band, and wires, or something of the sort? Did you see the banners and the zouaves carrying them? How the horns sounded, and how the tunes echoed through the streets?

Many a grizzly man saw the parade pass and turned from the window with a sigh that for just one Christmas Day he could be like the boy who followed the minstrel band, smiling in his excited mind the wonderful heroes in the long light coats, which are only fantastic depictions from the minstrel show of the past. Eugene Field set back to the boy again when he wrote:

Bring the comb and play upon it.

Marching here we come—

While cocks his highland bonnet,

Johnny beats the drum.

It is, after all, only the boy who loves the minstrel band? Whoever reasons thus but tries to hide beneath that cynicism which deceives no one, not even the cynic himself, his own heart. Whoever passes on without noticing the high hats, the flaring banners, the dandy coats and other inconspicuous features of the minstrel parade, is only trying with an effort which twitches his heart, to close the gates of memory's playground.

Hurray for the minstrel band.

PARSONS DETERMINING THE MAKEUP OF CENTRAL LEAGUE

Reported Fairmont Will Not Break Into the Association—Local Committee Mailed.

President Parsons, of the Central Basketball League, according to advice, today, from Johnstown, is working day and night on details of the formation of the league for the season. Johnstown reports that only Connelville, Charleroi, Johnstown and Uniontown are ready to try the indoor game the coming season on the basis of nine and take. It is reported among the "Jaws" that a couple of towns are willing to go into the league, providing certain financial concessions are made and players donated.

One of the biggest problems, declares league officials, confronting a new town is that of players. Lack of a basketball commission, which, if in force, could make players in the East available, is a matter of regret.

Announcement is expected in a few days as to the makeup of the league. President Parsons is quoted as favoring three towns in the Pittsburgh district, that the players may not be forced to make long "jumps."

There are rumors that Fairmont may no longer attempt to get in the league.

Flashes From the Diamond.
 Holding the Athletics to three hits in a recent game shows that Ed Walsh is still there with the puzzling slants.

Springfield won the pennant and also established a new record for games won in a season in the Three-I League.

"Kid" Elberfeld, who succeeds Billy Smith as manager of the Chattanooga team, has started to hustle for players for next year's Lookouts.

Miguel Gonzalez, the Boston Braves' new catcher, is a Cuban and doesn't speak English. "Hub" Parnes is an American and doesn't speak Spanish, which makes the Braves stand out in the language league.

Not Only are the New Suits--Coats--Dresses

very becoming, but they fit so well this season! It takes a store a long time experimenting to get garments like that. This season the "well-set-up" and well informed woman is not waiting (at least brisk business leads us to that conclusion) for the first chill winds of autumn to spur her on to apparel buying. Perhaps, also, it's because we have such nice things here. Come in today—or tomorrow.
